

Reject the NAB's petition 04-160

Any restriction to technology that doesn't facilitate competition in the public good must be to some greater public good. If satellite radio is using radio spectrum that it doesn't control, then it might well be limited. Other than some similar consideration, let satellite radio offer whatever programming it chooses and LET THE MARKET DECIDE. Any other decision by the FCC smacks of excessive corporate influence upon the legislature. Traditional radio is not some new technology that needs to be nurtured, if it can't compete then it deserves to lose customers. I want my local Traffic and weather!
